

Insurance

Today's insurance providers face an unprecedented slate of regulatory and market challenges. From minimizing the impact of unwarranted claims to the resolution of inquiries from regulatory bodies, insurers require legal counsel that understands the nuances of the industry as well as the insurance marketplace.

Schuyler, Roche & Crisham is recognized as one of Chicago's leading firms in the area of Insurance law. Our Insurance practice group includes attorneys with extensive experience in all aspects of the industry, with proven records of success in regulatory and claims monitoring, coverage disputes, regulatory proceedings (e.g. Department of Insurance proceedings) and insurance litigation.

Our areas of expertise include environmental, asbestos and toxic torts as well as general liability policies and coverage for professionals and executives across a range of industries. The Schuyler, Roche & Crisham Insurance group also has solid experience in first-party insurance, marine coverage, pollution coverage, reinsurance and retrocession coverage.