FROM NORTH AND NORTHWEST

Three expressways lead toward downtown Chicago from the north and northwest: the North-West Tollway and the Edens and Kennedy expressways. I-90 (North-West Tollway) merges into I-90/I-94 (Kennedy Expressway) at Harlem Avenue. I-94 (Edens Expressway) merges into the Kennedy between Lawrence and Montrose avenues. Once on the Kennedy, you will see numerous exits for downtown Chicago. To reach our office:

FROM THE WEST

Four expressways lead into downtown Chicago from the west: the North-West and East-West tollways and the Eisenhower and Stevenson expressways. - Exit at Lake Shore Drive (northbound).
- Continue north on Lake Shore Drive to Balbo.
- Turn left (west) on Balbo for a short drive to Michigan Avenue.
- Turn right (north) on Michigan and continue about a mile to the intersection at Randolph Street.

- Turn right (south) on midlevel Columbus and drive to midlevel Randolph.
- Turn left (east) onto Randolph and drive until you see the entrances to north- and southbound Lake Shore Drive.

TO REACH I-90/94 (KENNEDY & DAN RYAN EXPRESSWAYS) & I-290 (EISENHOWER EXPRESSWAY):

- Continue south on midlevel Columbus about a mile to Congress Parkway.
- Turn right (west) on Congress, which becomes the Eisenhower as you leave downtown.
- The Eisenhower intersects the Dan Ryan and the Kennedy expressways for north- or southbound travel.
